Ask the Library Assistant
Discover answers to your questions, grounded in Jewish sources.
Log In to Try Skip for Now

TALMUD BABYLONIAN JERUSALEM

The William Davidson Edition

SEDER ZERAIM (Agriculture)

Berakhot
Blessings and prayers, focusing on Shema and the Amidah.

SEDER MOED (Holidays)

Shabbat
Creative work prohibited on Shabbat and other laws that preserve the sanctity of the day.

Eruvin
Decisions that legally expand the areas in which one can carry and travel on Shabbat.

Pesachim
Passover: kidding-of chametz, the Paschal lamb offering, matzah, maror, and the Seder.

Rosh Hashanah
The four Jewish New Years, the process of sanctifying a new month, and laws of blowing the shofar.

Yoma
Yom Kippur: the High Priest's preparation, the Temple service, the fast, and repentance.

Sukkah
The structure of and obligation to dwell in the sukkah, the Four Species, and celebrating the festival in the Temple.

Beitzah
Holiday laws governing which objects can be used, how food is prepared, and what labor is permitted.

Taanit
Praying for rain, fasting in times of drought, and annual fast days marking Jerusalem's destruction.

Megillah
Reading the scroll of Esther on Purim, stipulations on the Esther story, synagogue rituals, and treatment of sacred objects.

Moed Katan
Chol ha'moed (the intermediate days of Passover and Sukkot), mourning and ex-communication.

Chagigah
Sacrifices offered on pilgrimage to Jerusalem on the festivals, and the esoteric discussions of creation.

SEDER NASHIM (Family law)

Yevamot
The levirate marriage of a widow to the brother of her deceased husband and the alternative she discharging that obligation.

Ketubot
The marital contract (ketubah) and obligations between husband and wife

Nedarim
Vows taken voluntarily, particularly those that forbid specific actions or objects.

Nazir
The Nazirite, or one who vows abstinence from wine, haircuts, and ritual impurity generated from contact with corpses.

Sotah
A woman suspected of adultery, the ritual she undergoes to determine guilt, and other rituals involving Nazarites.

Gittin
Laws relating to divorce, focusing on the get (bill of divorce) and its delivery.

Kiddushin
Betrothal, marriage, acquisitions, and lineage.

SEDER NEZIKIN (Damages)

Bava Kamma
Liability and compensation for damages inflicted on people or property.

Bava Metzia
Disputed property, returning lost objects, guarding, renting, borrowing, and responsibilities of workers and employers.

Bava Batra
Real estate disputes between neighbors, land ownership, sales, and inheritance.

Sanhedrin
The judicial system, forming the court, accepting testimony, and executing capital punishment.

Makkot
Cities of refuge, unintentional killing, false witnesses, and the whipping for lesser transgressions.

Shevuot
Oaths and the process of atoning for entering the Temple while impure or sacrifice while impure.

Avodah Zarah
Disassociating from idolatry, regulations on business interactions between Jews and idolaters.

Horayot
Atoning for erroneous rulings of the court and inadvertent acts of leaders.

SEDER KODASHIM (Sacrifices)

Zevachim
Animal and bird sacrifices in the Temple.

Menachot
Flour offerings, usually mixed with oil, wine libations, and bread loaf offerings in the Temple.

Chullin
Slaughter of animals and birds for non-consecrated purposes, other aspects of kashrut.

Bekhorot
Transfer of first-born kosher animals to a priest, redemption of first-born donkeys and people.

Arakhin
Vowing to donate a person's prescribed value to the Temple, and how the Temple declares use of land to be Temple.

Temurah
The sanctity of animals dedicated for sacrifice and the substitution of exchanging them for others.

Keritot
Karet, divinely-issued severance from the Jewish people, and sacrifices for unintentional sin.

Meilah
Prohibited benefit from Temple property, the sacrifice and restitution offered as atonement.

Tamid
The daily Temple service, including the burnt offerings brought every morning and afternoon.

SEDER TAHOROT (Purity)

Niddah
The ritual impurity of a woman in her menstrual cycle or experiencing particular discharges.

MINOR TRACTATES

Tractates not included in the canonizations of the Mishnah and the Talmud.

Avot DeRabbi Natan
Companion volume to Pirkei Avot with maxims of wisdom alongside explanations and stories

Avot DeRabbi Natan, Recension B
Version preserved in manuscript until published in 1887 by Solomon Schechter

Tractate Avadim
Slaves and indentured servants, their sale, acquisition, working conditions, and liberation process

Tractate Derekh Eretz Rabbah
Ethics and morals, proper etiquette and conduct in daily life.

Tractate Derekh Eretz Zuta
Characteristics of a scholar, teachings about the messianic age, and a chapter extolling peace.

Tractate Gerim
Converts to Judaism, the conversion process, and the relationship between Jews of Israel who observe the land laws of Israel.

Tractate Kallah
Marriage, intercourse, and proper sexual behavior.

Tractate Kallah Rabbati
Aramaic elaboration on parts of tractates Kallah, Derekh Eretz Rabbah, and Derekh Eretz Zuta.

Tractate Kutim
The religious status of Samaritans, permitted and prohibited interactions with them.

Tractate Megillah
Writing the mezuzah, a scroll of parchment containing the Shema, and hanging it on the doorpost.

Tractate Menuzah
Writing and treatment of a Torah scroll, almost identical to the beginning of Tractate Soferim.

Tractate Semachot
Aramaic elaboration on rules relating to death: the moment of death, burial, mourning, and cemetery conduct.

Tractate Soferim
Writing Torah scrolls and other holy books, the public reading of biblical texts.

Tractate Tefillin
Preparing and wearing tefillin, leather boxes containing biblical passages written on parchment.

Tractate Tzitzit
Fringes tied to garments with four corners

GUIDES

Darkhei HaTalmud
Brief, 19th-century guide with practical instructions for studying the Talmud and its commentaries.

Introductions to Amoraic Literature
20th-century introductory work to the Jerusalem Talmud and select tractates of the Babylonian Talmud by Jacob Nachum Epstein.

Introductions to Tanaitic Literature
20th-century introductory work to the Mishnah, Tosefta, and select midrashim, by Jacob Nachum Epstein.

Introductions to the Babylonian Talmud
20th-century introductions by Rabbi Adin Even-Yisrael (Steinsaltz) to the Babylonian Talmud and themes of each tractate and chapter.

Mevo HaTalmud (Chajes)
19th-century introduction to the Babylonian and Jerusalem Talmuds describing talmudic methodology and the development of oral law.

RISHONIM ON TALMUD

Commentators who lived in the 11th through 15th centuries.

Rashi
Classic 11th-century commentary known for its concise and clear explanations and considered a key resource in studying Talmud.

Rashbam
11th-century commentary by Rashi's grandson, present in about half of Rashi's commentary on most of Bava Batra and alongside Rashi on the last chapter of Pesachim.

Tosafot
Analytic commentary addressing textual difficulties in Rashi's commentary and other passages, composed throughout the 12th and 13th centuries.

Chiddushei HaRamban on Rosh Hashanah
Influential 13th-century analytic commentary on Rosh Hashanah from a wide range of earlier commentators

Rif
11th-century code that presents practical legal conclusions of talmudic passages and avoids later authorities as a basis for determining law.

Chiddushei HaRamban on Rosh Hashanah
Medieval commentary on Tractate Rosh Hashanah in the Babylonian Talmud, attributed to Nachmanides.

Commentary of the Rosh
13th- or 14th-century commentary of Rabbi Asher ben Yechiel on tractates Nedarim, Nazir, and Tamid

Ktav Yad Rashi
Manuscript of Rashi's 11th-century commentary on tractates Nedarim and Bekhorot, included in printed editions of the Talmud.

Meforash on Tamid
Anonymous commentary on tractate Tamid printed in the Vilna edition in place of Rashi.

Meiri
13th-century commentary with digest-like summaries of the Talmud's conclusions and earlier interpretations.

Mordechai on Bava Batra
15th-century commentary summarizing legal conclusions of earlier authorities, drawing on earlier authorities, considered a central work of Ashkenazi law

Chiddushei HaRa'ah on Ketubot
Medieval commentary on Tractate Ketubot by R. Aharon HaLevi of Barcelona and discussion of the Ketzi Hakmor

Piskei Tosafot
Medieval work summarizing the bottom-line legal conclusions that emerge from the Tosafists' Talmud commentary.

Rabbeinu Chananel
First extensive Talmud commentary, compiled in the 11th century, paraphrasing legal passages and noting their conclusions.

Rabbeinu Gershom
10th- or 11th-century commentary on Ta'anit, Megillah, Mo'ed Katan, and Chagigah, attributed among the earliest of Ashkenazi talmudic interpretations.

Ran
14th-century commentary on tractates Nedarim, Nazir, Sotah, Gittin, and Kiddushin, and considered the foremost commentary on the Nedarim.

Rashba
14th-century commentary by Rabbi Shlomo Ibn Aderet, a student of the Ramban who largely followed the methodology of his teacher.

Rav Nissim Gaon
11th-century commentary by a teacher of the Rif and Ibn Migash in Kairouan, printed alongside the Rif in most Vilna Talmud, Shabbat, and Eruvin.

Ri Migash
12th-century commentary by R. Joseph Ibn Migash

Riva
14th-century commentary by Rabbi Yom Tov ben Avraham Ishbili, a student of the Ramba and the Rosh.

Rosh
Influential 14th-century code presenting practical legal conclusions of talmudic passages, based on the work of the Rif.

Tosafot Chad Mikamei on Yevamot
Medieval commentary by an unknown Tosafist, printed alongside Tosafot by most of the Vilna edition of the Talmud.

Tosafot HaRash
14th-century commentary of Rabbi Asher ben Yechiel, based in large part on commentaries of the Tosafists.

Tosafot Ri HaZaken
Commentary on tractate Kiddushin erroneously published under the name of a 12th-century Tosafist Rabbi Yitzchak ben Shmuel of Dampierre, 14th-century Rabbi Avraham ben Natan.

Tosafot Rid
15th-century commentary by a prominent Italian Tosafist, who compiled several editions to some tractates and often critiqued his own earlier positions.

Tosafot Shantz
15th-century commentary attributed to the French Tosafist Rabbi Shimshon of Sens, printed alongside the rest of normal Tosafot.

Tosafot Yeshanim
Additional commentary of the Tosafists, traditionally printed alongside the rest of the Talmud in several tractates.

Yad Ramah
15th-century commentary of Rabbi Meir Abulafia, known by his acronym 'Ramah,' a leading rabbinic figure in medieval Spain.

ACHARONIM ON TALMUD

Commentators who lived in the 16th through 19th centuries.

Arukh LaNer on Rosh Hashanah
19th-century Talmud commentary by R. Yaakov Ettinger

Arukh LaNer on Sanhedrin
19th-century Talmud commentary by R. Yaakov Ettinger

Ben Yehoyada
16th-century commentary on aggadic portions of the Talmud by the Ibn Ish Chai, incorporating analytic and kabbalistic interpretations.

Beruppim
16th-century follow-up work by the Ben Ish Chai to his earlier work Ben Yehoyada, with additional interpretations on aggadic portions of the Talmud

Chiddushei Rabbi Akiva Eiger
19th-century anthology of Rabbi Akiva Eiger's Talmud novellae, known for sharp analytic questions.

Chiddushei Agadot
17th-century commentary by the Maharsha (Rabbi Shmuel Eidels) on aggadic interpretations, together with his Chiddushei Halachot in the back of the Vilna Talmud.

Chiddushei Halachot
17th-century commentary by the Maharsha (Rabbi Shmuel Eidels) on halachic topics, together with his Chiddushei Aggadot in the back of the Vilna Talmud.

Chiddushei Chatam Sofer
19th-century commentary by Rabbi Moshe Sofer, a leading rabbi of European Jewry.

Chokhmat Shlomo
16th-century commentary by the Maharshal focused on establishing the correct text of the Talmud.

Ein Ayrah
16th-century commentary by Ben Avraham Yitzchak HaKohen Kook on Ein Yaakov, a compilation of aggadic material in the Talmud.

Gilyon HaShas
16th-century notes of Rabbi Akiva Eiger on the margins of the Talmud.

Haflaah on Ketubot
16th-century commentary by Rabbi Pinchas HaKohen of Lublin on Ketubot, also applying the Talmud Bavli's methods of pilpul.

Haggahot Ya'avetz
19th-century notes on the Talmud by Rabbi Yaakov Emden, a well-known German scholar.

Maharam
17th-century work by Rabbi Meir of Lublin with concise interpretations of the talmudic text and the commentaries of Rashi and Tosafot.

Maharam Schiff
17th-century commentary by Rabbi Meir ben Yaakov Schiff, based on classes he delivered in a yeshiva in Germany

Marit HaAyin
16th-century commentary by the Chida on aggadic sections of the Talmud, based largely on Ein Yaakov and Kabbalistic teachings.

Penei Yehoshua
Widely-studied 18th-century commentary by Rabbi Yaakov Yehoshua Falk, with a focus on resolving questions posed by Tosafot on Rashi.

Pnach Einayim
16th-century commentary by the Chida, mainly on aggadic sections of the Talmud with some legal discussion as well.

Rashash
19th-century annotations based on classes that Rabbi Shmuel Boaz Shoshan delivered in a yeshiva in Lithuania.

Sha'arei Torat Bavel
20th-century commentary on the Babylonian Talmud by Chanoch Ehrlich and Meir Rabinowitz.

Shita Mekubetzet
Collection of earlier talmudic commentaries, compiled in the 14th century by R. Bezalel Ashkenazi

Tiferes LeNefesh Chayyah
19th-century commentary by R. Yechezkel Landau.

Be'er Sheva
Early 17th-century novella-style commentary by R. Yissachar Ebenburg

Chiddushei HaRim
19th-century commentary by R. Yitzchak Meir Rotenberg Alter, founder of the Ger Chassidic dynasty

Dor Revi'i on Chullin
20th-century commentary by R. Moshe Shmuel Shapiro, published posthumously from his notes and lectures, on Chullin, with a focus on resolving textual difficulties and analyzing the talmudic text through analysis of medieval commentaries

Gevurat Ari
Commentary by 16th-century Lithuanian scholar Rabbi Yehudah Loew Ben Bezalel, known as the Maharal of Prague

Yam shel Shelomoh
16th-century work of halakhah by Rabbi Shlomo Luria, structured as a commentary on the Talmud

Sha'ami Torat Bavel
20th-century commentary on the Babylonian Talmud by Chanoch Ehrlich and Meir Rabinowitz.

Tiferyon LeNefesh Chayyah
19th-century commentary by R. Yechezkel Landau.

Chiddushei HaRim
19th-century commentary by R. Yitzchak Meir Rotenberg Alter, founder of the Ger Chassidic dynasty

Gevurat Ari
Commentary by 16th-century Lithuanian scholar Rabbi Yehudah Loew Ben Bezalel, known as the Maharal of Prague

MODERN COMMENTARY ON TALMUD

Ahevukha Ad Mavet
21st-century work by Dr. Eliezer Shore analyzing the Talmud's discussion of the Babylonian Sanhedrin and 4 Maimonides' Sefer HaMitzvot.

Beur Reuven on Bava Kamma
20th-century commentary on the Talmud, Rashi, and Tosafot by Rabbi Reuven Agushewitz

Daf Shevui
21st-century English commentary meant to be accessible for beginners by Dr. Joshua Kulp, multi-profess of the Cornerstone Yeshiva in Jerusalem

Retreading the Rabbis: A Woman's Voice
20th-century commentary analyzing the Talmud through a feminist lens by Dr. Judith Hauptman, professor of Talmud at The Jewish Theological Seminary

Reshimot Shiurim
20th-century notes of Talmud classes taught by Rabbi Yehuda Amital, founder of the Har Etzion Yeshiva, Rabbi Hershel Reichman.

Steinsaltz
20th-century translation of the Talmud into modern Hebrew, with accompanying explanations by Rabbi Adin Steinsaltz.

COMMENTARY ON MINOR TRACTATES

Binyan Yehoshua on Avot D'Rabbi Natan
19th-century commentary by R. Yehoshua Heschel Schorr

Commentary of Chida on Tractate Gerim
19th-century commentary by the Chida

Gra's Nuschah
Version of Avot D'Rabbi Natan published by the Vilna Gaon

Haggahot
Notes on the Talmud by Rabbi Yaakov Emden, a well-known German scholar.

Haggahot R' Yeshaya Berlin
19th-century commentary by R. Yeshaya Berlin

Haggahot Ya'avetz
19th-century notes on the Talmud by Rabbi Yaakov Emden, a well-known German scholar.

Haggahot and Masti Mekomot on Tractate Kallah Rabbati
19th-century notes on the Talmud by Rabbi Yaakov Emden, a well-known German scholar.

Kisse Rahamim
Version of Avot D'Rabbi Natan published by the Vilna Gaon

Lev Hakhamim on Tractate Semachot
19th-century commentary by R. Yehoshua Heschel Schorr

Mesoret HaShas
16th-century commentary by R. Yechiel Michel Epstein

Mirqeh Etan on Avot D'Rabbi Natan
19th-century commentary by R. Yehoshua Heschel Schorr

Nachalat Ya'akow
19th-century commentary by R. Yaakov Yehoshua Falk

New Nuschah on Tractate Gerim
19th-century commentary by the Chida

Nuschaot from Manuscripts on Tractate Soferim
Version of Avot D'Rabbi Natan published by the Vilna Gaon

Ribbon Letzion
19th-century commentary by R. Yechiel Michel Epstein

Tamar Yehudim on Avot D'Rabbi Natan
19th-century commentary by R. Yehoshua Heschel Schorr

About Talmud

The Talmud is the textual record of generations of Jewish discussion of law, philosophy, and Biblical interpretation. It contains between the 3rd and 8th centuries CE, and is written in Aramaic and Hebrew, with dozens interwoven. The Talmud exists in two versions: the more commonly studied Babylonian Talmud was compiled in present-day Iraq, while the Jerusalem Talmud was compiled in Israel.

Daily Learning

Daf Yomi

Chullin 111

Visualizations

Explore interconnections among texts with our interactive visualizations.

- Tanakh & Talmud
- Talmud & Midrash Torah
- Talmud & Shulchan Arukh

All Visualizations →

Support Sefaria

Sefaria is an open source, nonprofit project. Support us by making a tax-deductible donation.

Make a Donation